

INAD 2017 in Europe Logo & Motto YAN Design Competition

Background and mission of the International Noise Awareness Day 2017 in Europe - Wednesday 26 April 2017

The European Acoustics Association -EAA- has included in its strategic plan the awareness of the people against noise with the aim of having a friendly acoustic environment.

The International Noise Awareness Day –INAD- was established 20 years ago by “Center for Hearing and Communication (CHC) to encourage people to do something about bothersome noise where they work, live, and play”, and the yearly commemoration of this international day is the last Wednesday of April.

Since the very beginning this initiative has been followed by some European Societies members of EAA, like the German Acoustical Society –DEGA-, Spanish Acoustical Society –SEA-, Italian Acoustical Society –AIA-, Hellenic Acoustical Society –HELINA-, etc.

Every year, EAA takes the opportunity of the celebration of the INAD day to promote the activities of its member societies towards a more silent environment.

In 2017 EAA will emphasise the Noise Awareness promoting and coordinating actions and activities during this year among the EAA member Societies, European and local authorities, noise associations, schools, museums, etc. These activities shall stimulate the understanding of the society on the importance of noise control in living and working situations in any acoustic environment.

We understand that mostly young people should be involved in the project, as they need to be in particular aware of the negative effects of noise.

The last EAA General Assembly agreed that EAA will promote and coordinate the International Noise Awareness Day 2017 in Europe and also agreed to launch a competition among Young Acousticians for adopting a Logo & Motto for the celebration of the INAD 2017 in Europe.
