AES Student Technical Paper Award

The AES Europe 2023 convention was held this month at Aalto University in Helsinki. The Student Technical Paper Award was granted to George Close, Thomas Hain and Stefan Goetze from the University of Sheffield, for their convention paper: "PAMGAN+/-: Improving Phase-Aware Speech Enhancement Performance via Expanded Discriminator Training." You can read their convention paper here.

Aalto Acoustics Lab Instagram

Aalto University has a very active team of acoustics researchers. You can stay updated on their work on their own Instagram!

Documenta Acustica Electronica

Exciting news! The EAA is launching the Documenta Acustica Electronica (DAEL). The DAEL will be a centralised hub for all literature related to acoustics. But before launch, we need your help! EAA is seeking volunteers to evaluate the platform & provide feedback. Experts in acoustics, IT, and practitioners needed to give input on the platform's usefulness, accuracy, functionality, and usability. Send us an email if you are interested in helping.

Autumn School Series in Acoustics

In early November 2022, the "Autumn School Series in Acoustics" (ASSA) took place for the first time in Eindhoven. Many young researchers and students interested in Acoustics participated in it. This year the school will take place from 6th-10th November and will feature several topics in Acoustic signal processing and environmental acoustics! Our own EAA president (Dick Botteldooren) will be presenting a lecture on monitoring and measuring. There will be some more information coming out in the next issue so watch this space and their website!

Live Sound Webinar

Hi everyone, this month we leave you with a webinar from the Danish Sound Cluster by Morten Büchert and Lars Liliengren from Roskilde Festival.

The project manager and head of production for the festival walk us through the exceptional live sound experiences this event has provided to the attendees for the past 50 years, as well as the measurement systems, sound policies and cooperation with other parties involved in the festival. Just click the picture below and have a look...!

If you are an early career acoustician and would like to have your publication included in the newsletter please email eaq.ya@euracoustics.org
